

Privacy Notice of the Myne Browser

Version: 1.0, Updated: July 15, 2026

This privacy notice ("Privacy Notice") explains the basis for our collection of personal data in connection with the Myne Browser (<https://mynebrowser.com/>; "Myne Browser"; Myne Browser software, related websites, accounts and features we provide), when you communicate with us or when you otherwise deal with us, and sets out how we use your personal data, the conditions under which we disclose it to others and the measures we take to keep it secure. In addition, we may inform you about the processing of your personal data separately, for example in consent forms, terms and conditions, additional privacy notices, forms, and other notices.

If you provide information to us about you or any person other than yourself, you must ensure that the data is accurate and that these other people understand how their data will be used, that they have given their permission for you to disclose it to us and for you to allow us, and our service providers, to use it. You are welcome to provide them with a copy of this Privacy Notice.

This Privacy Notice is aligned with the Federal Data Protection Act ("FDPA") and the EU General Data Protection Regulation ("GDPR"). However, the application of these laws depends on each individual case.

1. Controller

The responsible person for processing your data under this Privacy Notice ("Controller") unless we tell you otherwise in an individual case is:

Visionaire Capital AG

c/o Wadsack Zug AG
Bahnhofstrasse 7
6300 Zug
Switzerland

You may contact us regarding data protection matters and to exercise your rights at legal@mynebrowser.ai.

2. Data Collection and Purpose of Data Processing

We process the following data about you for the purposes outlined below:

2.1 Myne Browser

When you visit and use the Myne Browser, we collect data that is necessary for the functionality and security of the Myne Browser. The Myne Browser is built on the principles of privacy by design, zero-knowledge privacy architecture, on-device intelligence and data minimisation, and is based on the open-source Chromium engine. Any data we process is stored in anonymised and aggregated form. Personalisation and ad matching take place locally on your device and not on our servers.

The data collected includes: information on installation analytics (e.g. start installer, complete installer, installer errors) (anonymised); browser data (e.g. bookmarks, saved passwords, autofill, browsing history, browser settings etc.); chat prompts; voice audio; information regarding the granting of permissions, (e.g. microphone access); browser analytics (e.g. onboarding, sign-up, session counts, AI open/usage counts, retention cohorts (anonymised); etc.

2.2 User Account

The standard functionalities of the Myne Browser can be accessed and used without creating a user account. However, certain features and functionalities of the Myne Browser, including, for example, the AI-Assisted Features (see Section 2.3), require you to create and maintain an account ("User Account"). To set up a User Account, you must open the Myne Browser and register and/or login to such User Account. We process the data collected in this context in order to provide our features and functionalities and to ensure their functionality and security.

The data collected includes: account and profile information; password hash; email address; location (limited to determining whether the user is located in the US or the EU, so that data can be stored in the nearest data storage region); information regarding your consent to the Terms of Service; your acknowledgement of this Privacy Notice; etc.

2.3 AI-Assisted Features

The Myne Browser may offer AI-assisted features for search, summaries, recommendations, generated content, task execution support as well as features using voice services. Any AI chat history is stored locally on your device. We process the relevant data to provide, operate, secure, improve and support these features, respond to support requests and prevent misuse, fraud or security incidents.

The data collected includes: feature usage and interaction data; prompts, inputs and other content submitted to AI-assisted or voice features; audio recordings (for voice features); generated outputs; information on AI usage (token usage, audio session duration, credit balance); technical logs and error reports; support requests; etc.

Where AI or voice-related functionalities rely on dedicated third-party inference or service providers, the relevant data may be processed by such providers to provide the requested functionality.

2.4 Testing and Early-Access Features

Certain Myne Browser features may be made available on an alpha, beta, preview, testing or early-access basis. We process the relevant data to provide access to such features, monitor their performance and stability, identify and resolve technical issues, and further develop the Myne Browser.

For alpha, beta, preview, testing or early-access features, we collect the same data as described in Section 2.3. In addition, we may additionally process further data such as feedback, diagnostics, performance data and error reports in order to test, improve and further develop the relevant feature.

2.5 Subscriptions

Certain AI-assisted features may be available through paid subscriptions or other paid access models, including premium AI features, higher usage limits, priority access and workflow tools. We process the relevant data to manage subscriptions, provide paid features, process payments, administer billing, monitor usage limits, communicate about your subscription and prevent fraud or payment-related misuse.

The data collected includes: account and profile information; subscription plan and status; billing information; payment method details; payment and transaction information; invoices; usage and consumption data; etc.

2.6 Waitlist

If you are interested in the Myne Browser, you have the option to join our waitlist. We will process the information you provide in order to contact you and to share further information. You may unsubscribe from our mailing list at any time by using the unsubscribe option included in our emails or by sending an email to the address provided above.

The data collected includes: email address; information regarding consent.

2.7 Feedback Form

The Myne Browser includes a feedback feature that allows you to submit feedback, comments, suggestions or bug reports directly to us. We process the information you provide in order to review and respond to your feedback, improve the Myne Browser and address reported technical issues.

The data collected may include: information within a feedback report including attachments and screenshots (e.g. description, page URL, app/OS/system info); etc.

2.8 Communication

When you contact us by email, telephone, letter, or other means of communication, we collect the data exchanged between you and us for the purposes of communicating with you and providing our services to you, in particular to respond to your enquiries. By providing us with this data, you acknowledge that we use your data in accordance with this Privacy Notice.

The data collected includes: contact details; type, manner, place and time of communication; content of communication; etc.

2.9 Safety or Security Reasons

We process your data to protect our IT and other infrastructure. For example, we process data for monitoring, analysis and testing of our networks and IT infrastructures including access controls.

2.10 Compliance with Law and Legal Procedures

We process your data to comply with legal requirements (e.g. to combat money laundering and terrorist financing (KYC), to fulfil tax obligations, etc.), and we might have to request further information from you to comply with such requirements or as otherwise required by law and legal authorities. Furthermore, we may process your data for the enforcement of legal claims and for the defence in legal disputes and official proceedings.

2.11 Risk Management, Corporate Governance and Business Development

We process your data as part of our risk management and corporate government in order to protect us from criminal or abusive activity. As part of our business development, we might sell businesses, parts of businesses or companies to others or acquire them from others or enter into partnerships and this might result in the exchange and processing of data based on your consent, if necessary.

2.12 Cookies

The Myne Browser does not use its own cookies to track users or collect information about their browsing activities. However, the Myne Browser supports standard cookie functionality, which allows websites visited by users to store cookies on their devices, subject to the users' browser settings and any consent provided to the relevant website. Such cookies are set and controlled by the respective website providers.

2.13 Links to Third-Party Websites

The Myne Browser may contain links to third-party websites. Please note that when you use such link, your data such as IP address, personal browser settings, etc., are transmitted to these third parties. We have no control over, do not review and cannot be responsible for these third-party websites or their content. Please be aware that the terms of this Privacy Notice do not apply to these third-party websites or their content, or to any collection of your data after you click on links to such third-party websites. We encourage you to read the privacy notices of every website you visit. Any links to third-party websites or locations are for your convenience and do not signify our endorsement of such third parties or their products, content, or websites.

2.14 Third-Party Extensions and Plug-Ins

We do not use plug-ins on the Myne Browser.

However, the Myne Browser allows users to install third-party extensions or plug-ins, including from the Chrome Web Store. Depending on the permissions granted, such extensions or plug-ins may access or process personal data, browsing activity or other information available through the Myne Browser.

Third-party extensions or plug-ins are provided and operated by their respective providers. We do not control their operation, security or data-processing practices and are not responsible for such extensions or plug-ins or their compliance with applicable data protection laws. Users are responsible for deciding whether to install and use a third-party extension or plug-in and for reviewing the requested permissions and the provider's privacy notice as well as terms and conditions before installation and only install extensions from trusted providers.

2.15 Third-Party Platforms

We operate accounts on third-party platforms (e.g. Twitter/X, Discord, Telegram, LinkedIn). If you communicate with us via our accounts or otherwise interact with our accounts on these third-party platforms, your data will also be processed according to the privacy notices of the respective platform. Please find further information on the purpose and scope of data collection and processing by the third-party providers in their respective privacy notices.

3. Legal Basis for Data Processing

Insofar as we have asked for your consent, we process your data on the basis of this consent. You can withdraw your consent at any time with effect for the future by sending us a written notification (email to: legal@mynebrowser.ai). The withdrawal of your consent affects neither the legality of the processing that we carried out before your withdrawal nor the processing of your data on the basis of other processing grounds.

If we do not need your consent, we will not obtain it and we will process your data for other reasons, such as the initiation/execution of a contract or a business relationship with you, a legal obligation, a vital interest of the data subject or another natural person, or to perform a public task. We may also process your personal data if we have a legitimate interest in doing so, which includes, for example, complying with applicable law and marketing our products and services, the interest in better understanding our markets and in safely and efficiently managing and developing our company, including its activities.

4. Transfer of Data to Third Parties

As part of our data processing, we may share your data with third parties, in particular to the following categories of recipients:

- Service Providers: We may share your information with service providers and business partners around the world with whom we collaborate to fulfil the above purposes (e.g. IT provider; security companies; lawyers; etc.) or who we engage to process data for any of the purposes listed above on our behalf and in accordance with our instructions only.
- Contractual Partners: In case required under the respective contract we share your data with other contractual partners. If we sell or buy any business or assets, we may disclose your data to the prospective seller or buyer of such business or assets to whom we assign or novate any of our rights and obligations
- Legal Authorities: We may pass on data to offices, courts, and other authorities if we are legally obliged or entitled to do so or if this appears necessary to protect our interests. The authorities are responsible for processing data about you that they receive from us.

5. Disclosure of Data Abroad

The data that we collect from you may be transferred to, processed, and stored in, a country outside the European Economic Area (EEA) or Switzerland. In view of the EEA or Switzerland the law in some of those countries may not offer an adequate level of data protection. We only transfer data to these countries when it is necessary for the performance of a contract or for the exercise or defence of legal claims, or if such transfer is based on your explicit consent or subject to safeguards that assure the protection of your data, such as the EU-U.S. Data Privacy Framework, the Swiss-U.S. Data Privacy Framework and/or the Standard Contractual Clauses approved by the European Commission (SCCs), adjusted according to Swiss law, all of the aforementioned if applicable and required.

6. On-Chain Data

When you use blockchains, you acknowledge that your wallet address and other data/information provided by your transactions, which are considered personal data if relating to an identified or identifiable natural person, are permanently and publicly stored on-chain, which means such data is publicly available to anyone. Neither we, nor any third party, has any power to delete such data published by its users to the blockchain. If you want to ensure that your privacy rights are not affected in any way, you should not transact on blockchains as certain rights may not be available or exercisable by you or us due to the technological infrastructure of the blockchain.

Please also note that we do not have access to the third-party wallet connected to the Myne Browser.

You hereby release and indemnify us of any liability associated with data that you transferred to the blockchain.

7. Retention and Storage of Data

We only process your data for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of complying with legal retention requirements and where required to assert or defend against legal claims, until the end of the relevant retention period or until the claims in question have been settled. Upon expiry of the applicable retention period, we will securely destroy your data in accordance with applicable laws and regulations.

8. Data Security

We take appropriate organizational and technical security measures to prevent your data from being accidentally lost, used, or accessed in an unauthorized way, altered, or disclosed. However, we and your data can still become victims of cyber-attacks, cyber-crime, brute force, hacker attacks and further fraudulent and malicious activity including but not limited to viruses, forgeries, malfunctions, and interruptions which is out of our control and responsibility. We have also put in place procedures to deal with any suspected data breach and will notify you and any applicable regulator of a breach where we are legally required to do so.

9. Children

We do not knowingly collect personal data from children in violation of applicable law. The Myne Browser and our services are not directed to children and such individuals are not permitted to use the Myne Browser and our services. Certain features may be limited based on age or jurisdiction where required by applicable law.

If we become aware that we have collected personal data from a child without valid parental consent, we will take steps to delete such data without undue delay.

If you have reason to believe that a child has provided data to us, please contact us at legal@mynebrowser.ai. If you are a parent or guardian and believe that your child has provided data, please contact us, and we will take appropriate steps, including deletion of the data where required.

10. Your Rights

In connection with our processing of your data, you have various rights under applicable data protection law: the right to information about how we process which personal data about you, the right to rectification, the right to erasure, the right to restriction of processing, the right to data portability, the right to withdrawal of a previously given consent, the right to file a complaint with the competent data protection authority if you believe that we are not processing your personal data in accordance with data protection requirements, and the right to object to a particular processing. However, we ask that you please contact us first if you believe that we are not processing your personal data in accordance with your wishes, so that we can address your concerns and implement appropriate changes.

Please note that we reserve the right to enforce legal restrictions, if necessary, e.g. if we are obliged to store or process certain data, have an overriding interest (insofar as we can invoke such interests) or need the data to assert claims. If the exercise of certain rights involves costs for you, we will inform you in advance. We have already referred to the possibility of withdrawing consent above. It is important to note that exercising these rights may conflict with your contractual obligations and could result in consequences such as early termination of the contract or associated costs. Should this occur, we will inform you in advance, unless this has already been contractually agreed.

If you wish to exercise the rights mentioned above, please contact us at legal@mynebrowser.ai or at the contact details provided in Section 1, unless otherwise indicated or agreed. Please note that we may need to verify your identity in order to prevent misuse, e.g. by means of a copy of your ID card or passport, unless identification is otherwise possible.

In addition, every data subject has the opportunity to assert their rights in court or to file a complaint with the relevant data protection authority. In Switzerland, the relevant data protection authority is the Federal Data Protection and Information Commissioner (<http://www.edoeb.admin.ch>).

11. Amendment of this Privacy Notice

Due to continuous development of the Service, the Myne Browser and the contents thereof, changes in law or regulatory requirements, we might need to change this Privacy Notice from time to time. Our current Privacy Notice can be found on the Myne Browser <https://mynebrowser.com/privacy-policy-browser.pdf>

12. Contact

For any questions or requests, please use the contact details provided in Section 1.
